COUNCIL MAKES PLEDGE

Will Revoke Saloon License of Every Man Caught Selling on Sunday.

The City Council met Friday night with the Mayor presiding and all of the Councilmen, excepting Dr. Jackson, present.

The first question taken up was the matter of violations of the Sunday liquor law. The Mayor recommended the revocation of the saloon license of Ed Summers, who was fined Dec. 11, for a violation the day before by his bartender. After discussion, it was agreed, (each Councilman pledging himself to make no exceptions) to revoke the license of each and every saloon keeper, who is hereafter convicted of selling on Sunday. The City Attorney was also directed to prepare an ordinance by next Thursday night, making it unlawful for any person to go into a saloon on Sunday for any purpose. The Mayor also asked that no license be issued next year to restaurants located in saloons, or in rooms opening into saloons, except on condition that they close on Sundays. The Council passed a motion directing the Treasurer to require the public hall license of $25 to be paid by the Lyceum Association giving a season of entertainments in the Union Tabernacle not of a religious character. The ordinance was passed last summer and the Council merely construed it to apply to the Tabernacle. The preparation of an ordinance relating to the removal of unsafe buildings was also ordered. Chairman Clark, of the Building Committee, submitted a report for the year 1906, showing that he had issued 65 permits, aggregating $166,420. This record has been systematically kept this year for the first time in years and the result shows by actual figures the growth of Hopkinsville.

The license on stock dealers was increased from $50 to $500 for 1907. The Council adjourned to meet again Thursday night, Dec. 27th.

LOST OVERCOAT

Recovered by Police Last Saturday.

Vitus Gates came near losing his $25 overcoat last Saturday. When he went to dinner at the Hill House he put the coat where he thought it would remain until after dinner. But not so. When he came out of the dining room it was gone. He notified the police and officer Claxton found it at Frankel's, where it had been left to be called for. The man from the country was not arrested.

WATER STRAIGHT

Substituted for a Jug of Whisky.

A country man came to town Saturday and in the afternoon bought a jug of whisky with which to jolly during Christmas. He left his jug of fire-water at a grocery, and when he started to go home found that somebody had traded him a jug of water for his jug of red-eye. The man who made the swap is not known.

Death Near Larkin.

Mr. Lawson Canaler, aged about forty years, died last Friday at his home near Larkin. Death was due to consumption. His widow and two children survive.

THE ELKS' NEW QUARTERS.

First Regular Meeting to Be Held in the New Home To-Night.

BRIGHT AS A NEW PIN.

Charity Wagons Were Out Early Yesterday Morning.

The new quarters of the B.P.O.E. will be formally opened tonight, which is the regular meeting night of the order. It is the intention to open with a grand banquet, if everything can be arranged.

The Elks bought the Flack property several months ago, as they wanted a permanent home for their order. The quarters are on the 2nd floor and are perfectly adapted to the size of the antlered brotherhood. A great deal of money has been spent to make the new home what it is, one of the handiest in the State, and the members have all been interested in preparing a meeting place as well as a nook, where they can resort at any hour during the day when worn out from contact with the world, as well as work out bothersome problems in business. They have freely given of their means for the many changes that were necessary to convert the second story of their property into an Elks home and are justly proud of it.

You cannot form a correct idea of how fresh and bright everything looks without going through the building. The lodge room takes up the entire front space over the two store rooms with the exception of the stairway. It is beautifully papered, brilliantly lighted and has everything that tends to make it attractive and convenient. In this room is a pianola and two billiard tables, couches, etc. The large dining room is in the rear, as is the cooking department, cloak rooms, etc. Telephones are conveniently located, and the visitor, on entering, is impressed with the general air of cheer and comfort of the entire arrangement.

The order has been, if possible, more liberal in its donations for charity this Christmas than ever before. By tireless efforts the committee appointed for the purpose several days in advance secured the names and residences of all the deserving poor in the city. It has heretofore been the custom to send out wagons loaded with needed articles to the poor on Christmas day, but this time they thought it best to anticipate somewhat. So yesterday morning early the wagons were loaded with the articles that had been stored below for several days and they made the rounds of the city. The object of this was to let the beneficiaries know what they were to get in time to keep them from spending what little money they had to invest in Christmas goods so as not to duplicate what had been given by the Elks. We do not know how many homes were made happy by the visits of the Elks' wagons, but no one was omitted whose names they had been able to secure.

The order throughout this country is conspicuous for charity. They always give to the poor, no matter what their creed, expecting no recompense for their kindness, and the name of Elk has become a synonym for everything that is liberal and kind-hearted.

NIGHTS OF UNREST.

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace
for the from Kidney Troubles

No peace for the kidney sufferer—Pain and distress from morning to night.

"Get up with a lame back,
"Twinges" of backache bother you all day.

Dull aching breaks your rest at
night.

Urinary disorders adds to your misery.

Get at the cause—cure the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.

They're for the kidneys only—
Have made great cures in Hopkinsville.

Wm. C. Davis, cooper, of No. 603 North Main street, says: "A dull bearing down pain across my kidneys and through the small of my back made it so painful for me to stoop or lift anything that I was unable to do any work or to have any pleasure.
Whenever I took cold it settled in my back and at night bothered me a great deal while lying in bed." Sharp twinges often kept me awake for hours and in the morning I arose feeling tired and devoid of all energy and ambition. The condition of the kidneys was especially annoying and distressing at night. I doctored and used many remedies until I became discouraged, for instead of getting better I seemed to grow worse. Finally I happened to read an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, and as they were highly recommended by people nearby, I could not help but believe that they were a good remedy. I got a box and after using them a few days I could see a decided improvement. I kept on with the treatment and the pain in my back left me entirely and the action of the kidneys was restored to a normal and healthy condition."

Over in Kalamazoo, Mich., according to the "Gleaner" man, the popular song is "Her Mother Hid Her New Red Hat and Sent the Child to Bed." Somehow this song reminds me of my youth when mother patched my pan—er, I mean trousers.

Did you ever go to bed while your mother sewed placards on the basement of your bifurcated coats?

That is, I mean if you are a man!

I lost a lot of time that way when I was a boy. Now I wish I had one pair. I would get some sleep then.

It's funny about that, isn't it?
When you are poor and out at the post, you go to bed early and get plenty of nice, satisfying, sound-sleep. Morpheus and you are on the chummiest of terms. You are so fond of him it takes you and his wife and the hired man to separate you from his embrace of a morning, and then—

When you get older and have three pairs of pants—er, I mean trousers, with a pair of suspenders for each pair of pants, Morpheus takes a great distaste to you—probably because you have grown aristocratic—and absolutely refuses to slide down your collar door!

Whenever you try to woo him, he urns a cold, palpitating heart toward your amorous wooing and hurries off to bury his grandnephew without as much as saying, "Pecuss me, please, I'm going to the ball game."

For my part I don't see what good three pairs of pants—er, I mean trousers, are when you can't sleep nights, nor nothing.

I'd like to see you at the next night myself!

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Increasing cloudiness and warmer Tuesday.

King Oscar has passed another good day and there is continued improvement in his condition.

L. E. Hicks, a Kentuckian, who was buried in a cave at Bakersfield, Col., Dec. 7, was rescued the night of Dec. 22. He was discovered alive Dec. 10 and a pipe was sunk through tons of debris through which he was fed while the tunnel was being cleared. Hicks was unhurt, though his five companions were killed.

The Cadiz Record, a paper owned in part by the Attorney General of the State, is the only paper we have so far seen to criticize the steps taken in Hopkinsville to prevent mob rule within twenty miles of its own town. The Record sounds a discordant note in the fight for law and order.

"The Hopkinsville papers could much better serve their people if they would try to expose the recent violations of the law by the Standard Oil Company in that city, than they are in using all kinds of phrases and terms in reference to the recent disaster at Princeton and blowing about 'what they will do if a similar attempt should be made in Hopkinsville, which is calculated to keep this bitter feeling alive rather than quell the disturbance. There is nothing in all this fuss they are making except 'hot air,' and if there was any desire upon the part of anyone to go into Hopkinsville, it would be done just as easy as it was in Princeton."

The Madisonville Journal gives utterance to this remarkable editorial expression:

"The planter in the 'Black Patch' may not have a very extended or elevated mind; his imagination may not be the most lively, nor the most poetical, but he possesses a very solid, very logical, very common sense mind. He knows right from wrong; he knows he has been wronged, and he is going to have justice and right, if—if—well, if the dynamite and parlor matches hold out, and there are lots of dynamite and matches."

This statement is a libel on the people it attempts to speak for. No "planter" or other good citizen who possesses "common sense," and knows "right from wrong," will endorse the commission of such crimes as the destruction of other people's property, as suggested by the Journal. No wonder we are breeding anarchists in Western Kentucky, when the papers read by the people hold to such editorial opinions.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with local applications, as they can not reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. It is highly important that these organs should properly perform their functions. SHOT IN THE BOWELS

One Negro Shoots Another South of City Sunday.

CLAIMS 'TWAS ACCIDENTAL

One in Jail and Other Thought to be Mortally Wounded.

Jack Tandy was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by Harvey Davis Sunday. The parties are negroes and live about six or seven miles south of the city. Tandy was shot in the bowels and it is not thought that he can recover. From the best information obtainable it appears that Tandy and Davis had gone to a cabin on the farm of Mr. E. C. Cayce to visit some of their friends. The men appeared to be the best of friends just a few minutes before the shooting occurred. Shortly after their arrival on the porch of the cabin a scuffle ensued and a shot was heard. Parties who heard the report of the pistol went to the cabin and found Tandy lying on the porch. Davis left the premises immediately, but was later arrested by Deputy Sheriff Cravens and brought here and placed in jail.

The prisoner claims that the shooting was accidental and says that he and Tandy got into a friendly scuffle, where the latter, who had his arms around his (Davis's) waist, pressed his revolver, causing it to fire. The examining trial has not yet been set, and the date will probably not be fixed until the result of Tandy's wound is known.

SLOWER SPEED BASIS.

Southern Railroad Will Revise their Schedules.

Following is copy of telegram which Mr. T. C. Powell, fifth vice president of the Southern Railway, has just received from Mr. W. J. Finley, president of his company:

"Owing to the crowded condition of some of its single track lines, and the double track work, including the revision of the grades and alignment now under way, for the purpose of relieving the crowded condition of the crowded single tracks, the Southern Railway Company finds it difficult to maintain the schedules of some of its passenger trains as now scheduled, and will, in consequence, in the early part of January, ensuing, revise these schedules, putting them on the basis of slower speed with the expectation of being able to maintain them, and believing that under the circumstances this arrangement will be more satisfactory to the public.

The double track work is being vigorously pushed and on other parts of the road where double track work is not now under way, but where traffic is heavy, passing tracks are being put in, those already in extended, to facilitate the moving of trains such passing track work being done with the ultimate object of utilizing it as double track when double track work may be undertaken on those localities.

The improvement in passenger train movement will naturally improve the movement of freight trains.

The Southern Railway Company has arranged to shorten its operating divisions, increasing the number from fourteen to twenty-seven, each one of these divisions to be in charge of a superintendent. Men now in the service will be promoted to the additional positions thus created.

ated. This arrangement, it is believed, will result in increased efficiency and will, it is further believed, promote the mutual interests of the public and the company.

In the arrangements referred to the company is developing and making effective, as initiated by its late President.

PLANTING TREES FOR TIMES.

Railroads Providing for Day When Forests Are Gone.

The most perishable of the factors that enter into a railroad's maintenance of way accounts, the ties, are in modern practice reckoned for farthest ahead. The Atchafalaya is the latest road to adopt the plan of growing its own ties, which means that about 30 years from now the construction department will be cutting its own lumber, provided, of course, that in the intervening generation ties of steel or steeps of stone or concrete after the English fashion have not come into general use.

Dispatches from the west announced that the Atchafalaya had paid $100,000 for a ranch in California containing 8,668 acres of land to grow eucalyptus trees to supply the road with ties. It takes the tree, which is a relatively rapid grower, about 20 years to arrive at a diameter large enough for the purpose and each tree will then furnish from six to eight ties. In order to give the road a continuous supply about 450 acres will be planted each year and at the end of 20 years, when the first plantation is ready for the ax, the planting will begin all over again.

The railroads of the eucalyptus began the planting of the eucalyptus groves some years ago and there are now in Kansas several such plantations of a fair growth, though none has yet reached an age sufficient for cutting. If the present rate of consumption, which has been estimated at 50,000,000 ties a year, continues they will all be needed.

HOG CHOLERA

The Problem of a Cure is Now Solved

The much dreaded disease, hog cholera, has lost its terror to those who are posted on modern methods of treating the disease. It is now a curable disease. Any practical farmer who will follow the instructions given by the manufacturers can stop the worst outbreak of disease that ever came and save almost every hog alive to take the treatment and restore the herd to thrift in a few days time.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh Scott's Emulsion should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

the drug store of James O. Cook.

Waller & Rogers have rented the storeroom for next year and had the thieves been successful in getting in they could not have gotten anything but coffins and cases, as the firm only began moving Saturday. It is not presumed that anyone would steal his own coffin, though we have heard of several instances where men have made their own coffins, prior to being taken down before dissolution.

Falling to force the door, after raising and trying to get in through a window which they had raised, they next tried to get in at the back door of Cook's drug store. The thieves left the marks of a crow-bar on the doors of both store rooms. The rear windows of both store rooms are protected by heavy bars, or else they would have had easy work in getting inside and would have had no trouble in carrying off as much of the stock of Mr. Cook as they might have been inclined to appropriate. There is no possibility of detecting the persons who attempted to burglarize the two stores.

LISTENER'S TESTIMONY

Indicts Al Whitney for the Murder of Owen
Clark.

The grand jury at Paducah has indicted Al Winfrey, who killed Owen Clark, for willful murder and Winfrey has been sent to jail without bond to await trial in March.

The register says the principal witness before the grand jury was a young man named Sparks, who testified to what he heard over the telephone, which is a party line.

Sparks testified before the grand jury that last Tuesday morning he went to the telephone in the Thompson store to use it. The phone is on the party line, which includes the Shaffer home where Mrs. Clark had gone, on leaving her husband. He took down the Thompson receiver and heard Mrs. Clark talking to some man, the latter of whom was telling her this was Al Winfrey. Mrs. Clark said she did not believe it, but that it was some one trying to find out something. Winfrey then related something that only he and she knew of, and Mrs. Clark then acknowledged she was convinced it was Winfrey, who said he was coming to see her, and she told him it was dangerous for him to come. Winfrey then said he was coming out and Mrs. Clark replied that a woman boarded at their home and they would have to get rid of her. Winfrey said he would ring up again later. At 6 o'clock Tuesday evening Winfrey did ring up and Mrs. Clark told him to come ahead.

He said he would be there by 8 o'clock and she said this was too late. He then promised to get out to the house by 8:45 p. m. Winfrey then got his horse and buggy and went out.

The young fellow Morris who works at Mrs. Schaeffer's is the only one who testified before the grand jury that he heard Clark scream: "I am shot in the back" while the fusillade was going on out in the front yard of the Schaeffer home between Clark and Winfrey.

Winfrey was not before the grand jury and rests his case on his plea of self defense, contending that he did everything possible to get out of Clark's way and prevent being killed before he resorted to his gun and fired the fatal shots. He says he carried the revolver for protection in the woods, and took it inside the Schaeffer home in order to keep some one from stealing it from the buggy if he had left it outside.

BOLD HOLD-UP FRIDAY NIGHT.

Two Negroes Rob a White Man Who Displayed
Roll of Money.

SNATCHED AND RAN.

One Held Him From Behind
and Other Went Through Him.

Dot Youngs was held up by two negroes and robbed of $55 Friday evening about eight o'clock, on North Main street near the corner of First. He had displayed a roll of money at a business house on Sixth street while two negroes were standing close by, and after showing it to a friend put the roll in his vest pocket. Soon afterwards he went out Main street, and after going several squares two negroes overtook him. One grabbed him from behind, holding his arms tightly while the other stepped in front and snatched the wad of money from his vest pocket. He was given a rough shove into the gutter and the men ran. Youngs ran after them for some distance when they turned down a side street and eluded him. He reported his loss to the police, saying the roll contained $55 in bills. One of the negroes who saw the money on Sixth street was known by him. He says both of his assailants were strangers to him. One was tall and yellow, with a black overcoat and a hat creased in the top. The other, who held him, was low and heavy-set.

Mr. Youngs operates a shooting gallery on Sixth street.

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Screamed with Pain—Suffering Nearly Broke Parent's Heart—Twelve Years of Misery—Doctor Called Case Incurable—Helped from First, and

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and sore. At night he would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, or to sleep."

"One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial. I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold; and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk." (Signed) Michael Steinman, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1924.

PILCHARD FISHING

A THRIVING INDUSTRY ALONG THE CORNISH COAST.

Strenuous Times Are Had in the Villages When the Schools of Fish Come into the Bay.

"Heval Heval!" Wild excitement follows as this simple cry rises through some fishing villages along the Cornish coast; it is the anxiously awaited signal that fish are in the bay. Pilchards have come, and seine men are going to be shot. For weeks, along the cliff tops, groups of men have been keeping watch; long, wearied-tanned marine gullies have swept the waters, and now a dark red color is seen streaking the bay; gulls are dipping and screaming; the signal goes forth, and, as if by magic, the sleepy, quiet village is roused, and every soul in it rushes to watch, or take part in, the exciting work of the next few hours. Out in the bay large, heavy seine boats, guided by signals from the cliffs, are being driven through the green waters, fast as leary arms and willing men can see them.

The long, heavy seine net, which had lain ready for casting, is now being shot into the water and pulled out as the boats creep round the school of pilchards. Every face wears a tense, anxious look, for upon the success or failure to surround the fish depends the gain or loss, it may be, of thousands of pounds.

Once the seine nets are out and secured, then come the tuck boats, and into the large seine is put the tuck net; this allows the fish to be gathered more closely together, besides forcing the shoal of pilchards upwards to the water's surface; and now begins in earnest the tucking or gathering in of the fish. Along that side of each tuck boat nearest the seine men seat themselves astride the gunwales and, two to each tuck boat, commence dipping into the net of fish.
As the baskets are drawn upward again the water rushes back, leaving a mass of shimmering, iridescent pil-chards to be tumbled into the boats.
Tucking is strenuous work, and dangerous, for should any unlucky one slip from the boards into the tuck net, it would be to his certain doom, for practically nothing short of a miracle could save him from drowning under the heavy press of slippery fish;
but here, as in most affairs of life,
seems to stand the men in good stead, for one never hears of such a catastrophe occurring.

One feature of the Cornish coast is the sudden weather changes which take place; a calm, unruffled sea in a few hours gives place to long rollers straight from the deep Atlantic, and at any moment a rough sea may be beating where but a short while before the tide had crept in with never a ripple to break the water's calm.
The fear of this happening is ever present, coupled with the certainty that leaving pilchards in the nets is but courting loss of fish and damaged tackle from hordes of dogfish which swarm these waters, and by their degradations caused last year alone the loss of no less a sum than £10,000 to Cornish fishermen. Wherever mackerel, pilchards or herrings are wound and nets shot, there the dog-fish are also, destroying fish and nets alike; so little wonder that when a seine has been shot, and a school of fish enclosed, the work of securing the sea harvest is carried on early and late, with feverish haste. Boats are loaded to a point dangerously deep in the water, and as fast as filled give place to empty ones, and so the work goes on continuously. A big catch of pilchards, while it retains at the seine net, proves a harvest to others beside the fisher-folk. Thousands of gulls come in the bay, and for days glut themselves, screaming, diving, snapping up the fish, as they jump and splash on the waters; while down among the nets, illic, fierce, hungry sharks are harrying the helpless, confined pilchards, sometimes tearing nets to such an extent as to free the shoal, which had been secured at so much cost and labor.

Much of the picturesque element has now passed from the process of curing the fish, for until recent years it was done in dry bulk, the fish being stacked, layer on layer of salt and fish, this giving prohibitive work to every available person; old or young, woman or child, all joined in stacking and salting the fish as it was brought in baskets by the men. Nowadays, all this has been changed.

BIG CROWDS

Thronged the Streets Yesterday All Day Long.

Main street was filled yesterday with a moving, hustling throng of people who failed to come in and make their Christmas purchases last week. All the stores were crowded, the extra force of clerks employed being unable to wait on customers as promptly as they desired. Every body seemed to have plenty of money and small purchasers were loaded down before going home. At night, though somewhat diminished, the crowds continued buying and all our merchants did one of the largest businesses, in the history of the city.
